Adenauer Has Pneumonia

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has pneumonia, his doctors disclosed today.

A special medical bulletin issued by two physicians said the 79-year-old West German government chief's "feverish bronchitis has been complicated by a light bronchial pneumonia."

This was the first indication that the Chancellor is seriously ill. He has been confined to his home for the past five days.

A leader of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party said the Chancellor has been receiving daily penicillin injections.

First announcements said Adenauer was suffering only from a cold.

Intimates said he became chilled during a night drive from Luxembourg to Bonn last Wednesday after his daylong conference with French Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay on the Saar plebiscite.

Adenauer is subject to colds and this is his second serious illness this year.

GOP Hears Vincent; Plans Public Meeting

Former Mayor Harry M. Vincent, Republican candidate for re-election to that office, said last night in commenting on the proposed city manager form of government for Salem that he "will not take a stand either for or against something I do not understand."

Vincent spoke at a meeting in the Memorial Building of GOP leaders who completed the final draft of the party's platform.

The former mayor said, "Before our city overthrows the mayor-council form of government which Salem and a great majority of other cities have always had, the citizens should be given the benefit of an intelligent and unbiased study."

He said he favors "any improvement in city government as long as it benefits the people for the same cost or less."

The Salem Republican Club will sponsor a meeting open to the public at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Public Library. All Republican Party members and other persons interested are urged to attend.

The platform adopted last night will be discussed and presented to party members for approval and acceptance.

Daniel H. Dunbar, candidate for president of Council, indicated that GOP candidates would express their personal opinions on local issues. A resolution stating that no conditions are to be attached to appeals for voters' support, will be offered for adoption.

Salem Brosius Co. Plant Here Sold

John Bosco of East Palestine has purchased the Salem Brosius Co. property on S. Broadway for an unreported sum.

Bosco, who operates scrap and used car businesses in East Palestine, said he has no definite plans for the property. "I may sell it or lease it," he declared, adding that he had no intention of using the property for commercial purposes himself.

The Salem Brosius Co. moved its Salem facilities and personnel to its main office in Pittsburgh last winter.

Bosco said Matt Melitska of Salem, an employee of the Salem Brosius Co., handled negotiations for the company. The purchase was completed yesterday, he said.

Stock Market Seeks To Rally After Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tried unsuccessfully to rally today, and prices subsided into narrow mixture of gains and losses in the early afternoon.

Prices spread over a range of around $2 in either direction with most changes small.

Trading was active at a pace better than Monday's 3,100,000 shares traded in a sharply lower market.

Among higher stocks were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, Phelps Dodge, Aluminum Ltd., New York Central, Texas Co. and United Air Lines.

Lower were Republic Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Du Pont, Reynolds Metals, Baltimore & Ohio and Standard Oil (NJ).

U. S. government issues traded over the counter were higher.

Bids must be in for the roofing of the Am. Legion Bldg. Post. 131, Leetonia by Oct. 15. Specifications may be obtained at the Beilhart Shoe Store or at the Post.

Nixon's Trip To Middle East, Believed Off Permanently

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital observers saw no prospect today that Vice President Nixon's now-postponed trip to the Middle East and Africa ever will take place.

They saw that result stemming from a number of factors, including President Eisenhower's illness, a more touchy diplomatic situation in the Middle East, and Nixon's own potential role in advance of next year's presidential election.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the postponement Monday. He said Nixon would remain in this country to preside over meetings of the Cabinet and the National Security Council while the President recuperates. He told newsmen he could not say whether the trip would be rescheduled later.

But observers saw little likelihood that Nixon would be leaving the country for any length of time, even after the President recovers.

Some diplomatic observers remarked that the Middle Eastern situation has grown so much more critical since Nixon's tour first was proposed as to raise a question as to whether it should have been undertaken in any case.

Strauss Concedes Validity Of Dixon-Yates Is Questionable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has conceded publicly for the first time that "there may be a question as to the validity" of the Dixon-Yates contract.

He said in an Oct. 7 letter made public Monday by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) that any cancellation payment to the Dixon-Yates power group is being held up while the question of validity is studied intensively.

Both Edgar H. Dixon and Eugene A. Yates, heads of the two major utility companies involved, renewed their contentions that the now-abandoned contract was a valid one.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a statement that AEC now appeared to be moving toward the position he has maintained all along. He has contended it never was a binding obligation on the government, and that no cancellation fee was due Dixon-Yates.

The AEC consistently has maintained heretofore that the contract became legally effective some time last winter.

The contract was negotiated by AEC last year at President Eisenhower's direction. It called for a 10-million-dollar plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA electricity and used elsewhere by AEC.

On July 11 this year the President directed that the contract be terminated and the AEC has been conducting negotiations looking toward a final settlement of the contract since that time. If it is binding, the government is obligated to pay costs incurred by the Dixon-Yates group. There have been estimates these could run to several million dollars.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—American Legionnaires put aside the serious business of their national convention today to step out on parade.

If there was a sour note in the five-hour line of march, it came from the 40 and 8, the honor and funmaking organization.

The 40 and 8 nearly came to a parting of the ways with the Legion. One of its strongest complaints is that it wasn't allowed to parade as a unit. The parent organization insisted that 40 and 8 members split up and parade individually with state delegations.

Parade day came after a busy national convention opening at which Secretary of State Dulles promised that the United States would not disarm "unless we can be sure that others are doing the same."

Dulles, who flew direct to Denver from Miami for a meeting with President Eisenhower in his hospital room, emphasized U. S. policy developed before the President suffered his heart attack.

Local Man Confesses $1,140 Cafe Burglary

Horace Jordan, 26, of 434 S. Lincoln Ave. was bound over to the Columbiana County grand jury under $1,000 bond this morning by Mayor Dean B. Cramer on a charge of breaking and entering in the $1,140 robbery of Rodi's Tavern at 180 W. State St. Oct. 2.

Police said Jordan confessed breaking into the establishment and taking the cash from a desk drawer. Jordan drew suspicion to himself by spending large amounts of money freely, police said. About $70 of the stolen money was recovered, they reported, when they arrested the suspect yesterday.

To Study Piping Lake Water Into River

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Foundation yesterday granted $12,000 for a survey to learn the cost and feasibility of piping Lake Erie water into the headwaters of the Cuyahoga River to feed industries along its route.

The Lake Erie Watershed Conservation Foundation will make the study. John H. Byrne, its executive director, declared:

"This grand could result in bringing the unlimited waters of Lake Erie into the entire Lake Erie watershed in northern Ohio, aiding factories, homes, farms and recreation."

The Cuyahoga River's flow has dwindled over the years, and the quality of its water has been poor. These have been matters of increasing concern to the many industries along its banks.

The proposed study would extend over six counties. The Cuyahoga River runs in a long "U" with the left end here in Cleveland, the right end east of Chardon in Geauga County, and the bottom bend in Akron.

Perfect Circle Reopens Plant; Troops Patrol

70 Workers Enter Foundry; 4 Tanks Sit On Parking Lot

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Perfect Circle Corp. reopened its piston ring foundry today with troops and five pickets patrolling together in a litter of stones and broken glass left from last Wednesday's strike riot.

About 70 workers entered the foundry as the doors were opened for "anyone who wants to work."

Other Perfect Circle plants remained open without incident in nearby Hagerstown and Richmond. Almost 1,000 National Guard troops, imposing martial law, protected all of New Castle and Hagerstown and the two plants at Richmond.

Four Tanks Guard

Four tanks sat on the foundry parking lot here, facing the plant, where about 90 nonstrikers were evacuated by state police last Wednesday after an exchange of shots that wounded eight persons. Half a dozen guardsmen carrying rifles walked patrols outside the foundry fence.

Only five pickets, without placards, marched quietly at the foundry gate, contrasted with an estimated 5,000 sympathizers who touched off the riot last week which prompted Gov. George N. Graig to send in guardsmen.

The CIO United Auto Workers union has been on strike against Perfect Circle here and at Hagerstown and Richmond, Ind., since July 25 in a contract dispute.

Proclaims Martial Law

The company's decision to reopen came after Gov. Craig proclaimed full martial law for New Castle and extended it to include all of surrounding Henry County; the town of Hagerstown and the Perfect Circle plant area in Richmond.

New Castle itself had been under modified martial law since the 600 guardsmen moved in last Wednesday.

The martial law order shut off all sale of liquor. Mass meetings were banned except for churches, schools and school athletics, movies, clubs and fraternal organizations. Carrying of weapons was banned except for authorities. No curfew was imposed.

The governor's order of full martial law was protested by the UAW, which called it "putting property rights above human rights." Union officials stayed away from a negotiation session which had been arranged by federal mediators.

Won't Attend Meetings

"We refuse to attend any meetings within the shadow of fixed bayonets and Sherman tanks," said Don Ballard, Indianapolis regional publicity director for the UAW.

The foundry, which has a normal work force of 260, had about 100 workers inside last Wednesday when an estimated 5,000 strike sympathizers demonstrated outside. Shots were fired from both sides.

The foundry previously had been closed by pickets but had been reopened under a court order limiting the number of pickets to five. The Hagerstown and Richmond plants have been operating with part of their work force.

Petitions for decertification of the UAW at Hagerstown and Richmond are on file with the National Labor Relations Board. The company has declined to sign an agreement for these plants, and the union has refused to bargain for the New Castle foundry alone.

Trial Begins For Dentist On Slaying Charge

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jurors in the first-degree murder trial of Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod returned to the courtroom today with at least two new questions unanswered.

Testimony Monday brought to light the presence of a note in the pocket of the coat worn by Mrs. Mary Moonen, the 21-year-old serviceman's wife Axilrod is accused of strangling.

Another witness told the jury of a tall man who stepped from the shadows during the night, only about 300 feet from where Mrs. Moonen's body was found the next morning.

The 50-year-old Minneapolis dentist is charged with murdering Mrs. Moonen, a patient, last April 22 after, authorities said, she accused him of fathering her unborn child and threatened to expose him.

A policeman testified he found the small slip of paper in Mrs. Moonen's pocket after being summoned to the scene where her body was found. He did not say what was written on it.

John Cowles Jr., son of the publisher of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, was first to discover the body in the alley behind his home. Cowles said he observed a tall man walk from the shadows across the street from his home about 2 a. m. that day. The man, he testified, got into a car and drove away.

Cowles said he observed the tall man when he went outside to hunt his lost dog.

Identity of the tall man and contents of the note in Mrs. Moonen's pocket were the two unanswered questions.

Axilrod denied the accusation he fathered Mrs. Moonen's unborn child.

18 Workers Hurt In Oil Explosion

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP)—An explosion rocked a low-pressure receiving unit of the Sinclair Oil Co. refinery in nearby Trainer Monday and showered workers and supervisors with liquid fire, injuring at least 18 men, 4 critically.

A company spokesman said a bad break had developed in a gasoline line in the basement of the receiving unit and the explosion occurred while 8 to 12 men, mostly supervisors, tried to repair it.

President Plans First Conference Since His Illness

Condition Continues To Progress; Ike Sleeps For 8 Hours

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower awoke "refreshed and cheerful" this morning preparatory to holding his first government policy conference since his Sept. 24 heart attack. He arranged a hospital meeting with Secretary of State Dulles to discuss international affairs.

The 7 a. m. (MST) medical bulletin from the President's bedside reported:

"The President slept soundly last night for eight hours. He feels refreshed and cheerful this morning."

"His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

The session with Dulles dealing mainly with the Big Four foreign ministers' parley opening Oct. 27 in Geneva, marks the first presidential step back toward active direction of U. S. foreign policy.

Advance indications were that Dulles would call on the President during the morning at Fitzsimons Army Hospital, spend about 15 minutes there, and then hold a news conference at the Denver White House at Lowry Air Force Base.

The secretary flew here Monday night from Miami, Fla., where he addressed the annual convention of the American Legion. He said there the United States will go to the Geneva foreign ministers conference with two sets of plans, one to meet any Russian obstruction and the other to exploit any genuine Soviet harmony moves.

On arrival here aboard Eisenhower's private plane Columbus III, Dulles told newsmen at the airport:

"Just say my principal feeling at the moment is one of personal gladness that I shall be able to see the President again, and it is a

346,880 Vehicles Use Pike In 9 Days

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission reported today that 346,880 vehicles traveled over the Northern Ohio Turnpike in the first nine days of its operation.

That brought a cash revenue of $328,690, said Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy. To be added to this amount are unestimated tolls due from commercial hauliers operating under charge accounts.

Money from concession holders—restaurant and gas station operators—have not been included in the total revenues.

The Northern Ohio Turnpike opened for business over its entire length from the Pennsylvania to the Indiana border Oct. 1.

Shocknessy said the actual cash revenues from tolls are averaging some $36,500 per day. Operating expenses for the turnpike at this time amount to about $10,000 per day.

"Both the traffic and revenue demonstrate quite vividly that the Ohio Turnpike will pay its way," Chairman Shocknessy said.

He added that turnpike truck traffic is increasing, and that indications are regularly scheduled passenger buses will be using the turnpike by Oct. 20.

Columbus Celebrates Explorer's Birthday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Christopher Columbus, the Genoese navigator who discovered America and died in relative obscurity, would be more than pleased today if he could see all the attention his name-sake city is paying him.

A 20-foot, 7,000-pound bronze statue of the famed explorer was hoisted into place at city hall here yesterday. Although the statue has two cracks, sculptor Edoardo Alfieri of Genoa, Italy, said a welder's torch can heal them.

The people of Genoa gave the statue to Columbus, Ohio, as a gift. It will be officially unveiled here tomorrow, Columbus Day, with a host of Italian dignitaries present. The ceremony will climax a four-day celebration of the holiday.

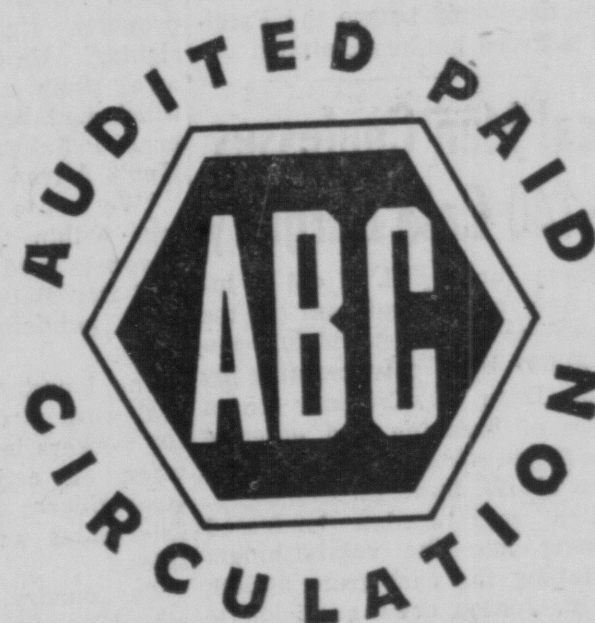

Today's events include an all-day outdoor disk jockey show in the downtown area, special luncheons by service clubs, presentation of 12 copies of "The Columbus Story" to the public library and local schools, a band concert and showing of the Hollywood film, "Christopher Columbus."

The advertiser's highest standard—

of circulation value

Every industry has a standard by which its products can be measured. The jeweler uses the symbol of a pure diamond. In flatware, the word "sterling," and in dinnerware, the word "bone china," represent high standards of quality and value.

For the advertiser, the symbol of the highest standard of circulation value is the emblem of the Audit Bureau of Circulations*. This hallmark means that newspapers or periodicals so identified are measured according to the most highly regarded rules and standards in the advertising and publishing industry.

The fact that we are privileged to display this A.B.C. emblem here means that you can buy advertising in this newspaper as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

*This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative, non-profit association of publishers, advertisers, and advertising agencies. Our circulation is audited by experienced A.B.C. circulation auditors. Our A.B.C. report shows how much circulation we have, where it goes, how obtained, and other facts that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they use this paper.

LEETONIA — Solicitor William Lodge was appointed to check on a date to be set for a special election when the voters will be asked to decide on a fire hall levy.

The street department was ordered to obtain tar and slag for a seal coat on High St. from Chestnut to Main. The street committee recommended that tar and slag left over from the seal job be used on certain alleys that have been washed out after heavy rains. The committee also asked for prices on seal coating and hot mix for Oak St.

The solicitor also was ordered to secure an option on the Morgan property east of the water works.

Mayor Paul Sevenich will work with the Board of Education in regard to seal coating the streets at the high school and the alley at the South Side School. The street committee will also inspect the proposed widening of Columbia St. near the Blosser residence.

Orders Two Juveniles
To Take Driver Tests

LISBON — Two more juveniles felt the effect today of Judge Louis Tobin's new measure aimed at curbing traffic violations.

The new rule provides that any juvenile who has been convicted for a traffic violation must take a driver-training course offered by the public schools before his license is returned.

A 16-year-old married Wellsville woman and a 17-year-old Wellsville youth, cited Saturday and Sept. 17 respectively by Wellsville police for reckless operation, must take the course, Judge Tobin ruled Monday.

A 17-year-old Greensboro, Pa., youth, arrested Saturday by Salem police for speeding, forfeited a $25 bond for non-appearance Monday.

Unemployment Drops
To Two-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that unemployment dropped to 2,100,000 in September—the lowest in nearly two years—while employment hit a September record at 64,700,000. The total number of those at work in September was a decline of 750,000 from August, however, due to the return of students to school after part-time summer employment. The employed total was 2½ million higher than September 1954.

September Bill Biggest
For Boarding Prisoners

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners will probably sigh with relief — financial relief — when the new cell block of the $230,184 county jail on N. Market St. is finally completed about Nov. 1 and its prisoners are moved in.

The bill for boarding prisoners in five area jails last month was $1,913.40, broken down as follows: $788 at Stark County jail, $627.40 at East Liverpool, $195 at Wells-ville, $142 at Lisbon and $161 at Leetonia.

In addition the county paid $65 for prisoners' coversalls last month.

County deputies said September's bill was the "biggest monthly bill we've had since we moved the prisoners out of the Youngstown jail."

Michigan has 36,350 miles of streams about half of which are trout waters.

Feel Like Dreaming

Forget about traffic jams and transportation bottlenecks for a few minutes and dream with
the New York-New Jersey Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission, which has blueprinted a transportation system for the future.

Rubber-tired "trains," each coach self-powered,
would run noiselessly in concrete channels
throughout the vast metropolitan district of New York City, carrying the city's teeming millions to and fro with efficiency not even approached by the present hodge-podge of trains, buses, subways and taxicabs, all competing with one another for passengers and space.

The difference between such a dream system from coast to coast is only a difference of degree. In another century, concrete "channels" will lace the entire country.

Some of them will utilize railroad right of ways, "Trains" of self-powered vehicles will flow endlessly back and forth at high speed,
as they now do on limited-access toll roads—
free from traffic friction, free from stop-and-go motion.

The New York-New Jersey Metropolitan Rapid
Transit Commission is not just dreaming. It is planning—and every day brings its plans closer to fruition.

Hardest Way To Learn

This country's worst commercial aviation disaster, the crash of a United Airlines plane into Medicine Bow Peak in Wyoming, snuffed out 66 lives last Thursday. But something may be gained from the tragedy.

The possibility of salvaging a safety lesson is hinted at in a Civil Aeronautics Administration explanation that search plans could not fly near the same peak because of weather conditions.

The plane that crashed should not have been flying near Medicine Bow Peak, either. It is an established fact in aviation safety that up-drafts and downdrafts over mountain peaks can buffet even the largest planes out of control.

In the early years of aviation, the same lesson being reviewed after the Wyoming disaster, was learned the hard way over the Alleghenies. Many lives were lost while investigators tried to understand what caused planes to crash into mountainsides that theoretically were a safe distance below. The explanation was sudden downdrafts. Apparently, the lesson that safety is a special problem
over mountain peaks still has not been learned well enough.

They Try A Little Harder

The annual nationwide effort to call attention to employment needs of the physically handicapped will be made from Oct. 2 to 9 this year.

The purpose is the same as always — to bring the handicapped and their potential employers
into closer understanding.

Employers of handicapped persons are never asked to give jobs out of pity but only out of self-interest, which is the only sound basis for giving a job to anyone, handicapped or not.

They are asked to take nothing into consideration but the probability that a handicapped worker will be worth his hire for a reason that has been found true in the great majority of cases — because handicapped workers try a little harder than ordinary workers.

They are like handicapped horses in that respect. Because they have the incentive to knowing they have to overcome something, they work at their jobs more diligently. It has paid off handsomely for all employers who have taken advantage of it.

Trouble In Indiana

The strike disorder that brought Indiana
Circle Corp. foundry in New Castle, Ind., this week is in a familiar pattern.

Strike sympathizers from a wide area converged on a small plant that was under strike-siege. Some of them were armed, as were some of the people in the plant who had refused to honor the strike.

Gunfire claimed at least eight victims. It was evident to public authority that the strikers and their sympathizers had the necessary numbers and the requisite intention to bring about a state of insurrection. Courts and local police power were helpless. That was the purpose of the demonstration.

The UAW's goal was to close the Perfect Circle foundry, one way or another. Its goal was achieved through the intercession of the governor of Indiana, George Craig, who was vacationing in Miami. He ordered the plant closed and the Indiana State Militia to stop the rioting that had been caused by the influx of strike sympathizers to New Castle. But the real effect was to close the foundry.

The pattern is familiar. The technique has been used before by the UAW. It will be used as long as unions can precipitate civil disorder
to get what they want, without fear of getting what they do not want—which would be the unilateral use of the militia to keep them from starting the disorder.

Picked Candidates

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Tammany Grabbing Control Of Democratic Party

Time was when the Democratic party had a liberal passion and the mere suggestion of a boss-picked candidate for the presiden-

Lawrence

cy was enough to stir the indignation of silver-tongued
orators from coast to coast.
Today Tammany Hall's boss occupies a position of leadership and is issuing warnings

calculated to make the progressive Adlai Stevenson and his fellow-liberal, Sen. Kefauver, hesitate as they turn their eyes toward primaries that might prove futile.

The Tammany Chief is publicly advocating what he calls an "open convention," which is the kind wherein the bosses of the bigcity
organizations have the freest play for their talents in making deals and bargains.

It seems odd that the Democratic party should be managed and bossed by the professionals—something that used to be the chief characteristic of the Republic party.

Nowadays there is no "old guard" in the Republican command. The real leaders are young governors and young chairmen of state committees who have a clearer idea of the kind of government
the American people want than their Democratic brethren who control the bigcity organizations and also the biggest of the state delegations to the Democratic National Convention.

The Republican party, through 20 years of defeat, gradually, eliminated the dyed-in-the-wool conservatives from positions of leadership and today the party is built in the image of its principal middle-of-the-road — President Eisenhower.

WHETHER HE RUNS or not,
the Republican party has definitely committed itself to a program which avoids the extreme of either

the left or the right and sticks closely to the center, where the people really want the power of government to rest. That's because today the middle of the road means holding at a safe distance the various groups that seek advantage
out of governmental policy to the detriment of the national interest.

By contrast, the Democratic party is committed to a faction and boldly proclaims its bias as a virtue. Thus, the Democrats are promising a one-sided labor law
and are counting on the big labor union bosses to help them finance the next campaign and to swing
the vote of the workers.

The Americans for Democratic Action, a radical organization which comes from the group that former President Hoover characterized as "totalitarian liberals,"
is expected to mobilize the "left wingers" for the Democrats, while the big-city and state organizations with their machines are counted on to keep in line many of the so-called minority groups.

IT'S TRUE the Democrats have a cleavage in the South, but this will hardly hurt them this time as it did in 1952. The Democratic party in the North is in the main harmonious. It has lost the conservative voters but believes this is more than offset by the labor union and radical vote.

Just now the maneuvering between the bosses who want to see Gov. Harriman nominated and those who are angling to get former Governor Stevenson nominated is so transparent that it is surprising the political science professors who have been declaiming
for years against the evils of the convention system aren't uttering a word of protest.

Time was when the nominating of a presidential candidate in a
"smoke-filled room," with the bosses sitting around to make the deal, was solely a Republican characteristic. Now it seems to be the way the Democrats are going to function behind the scenes when the national convention is held.

THE CONSPICUOUS effort at last week's New York State rally of Democrats to woo former President Truman to the Harriman side, though he has been committed to Stevenson in the past, is a sign that the Democrats consider Trumanism
an asset rather than a liability.
They are in for a sad surprise because Trumanism is going to be a big issue in 1956.

It would not have been with Ike as the Republican nominee but with the President likely to be out of the race, the other Republicans will pull no punches. Some of them are delighted that the so-called
"give 'em hell" technique is still relished by the Trumanites and that the latter are urging the former President to repeat what he did in 1952 on the stump.

Maybe they'll discover that memories of "Korea, Communism and Corruption" haven't been erased and that the voters will be involuntarily reminded by the Democratic campaigners of the things that caused so many independents to leave the Democratic party and vote Republican in 1952.

IT SEEMED for a while that the anti-Communist issue would be forgotten by 1956, but the Democratic radicals and so-called "liberals" are keeping it alive. With the 15 million dollars of the Fund for the Republic to be spent largely on publicity projects that are right up the alley of the Democrats, it does look as if the Alger Hiss and Harry Dexter White cases and perhaps some other will be back in the campaign again,
with a lot of questions being asked of the officials of the Truman regime which they never have answered.

A "give 'em hell" technique begets "massive retaliation" by the other side. So 1956 is not likely to be a dull campaign no matter who
the nominees are.

There is more than a little complicated. However, the last few years have made this subject of practical importance in the treatment of many diseases. Several different diseases are being treated with success both with the adre-nal secretion which is called cortison or by the stimulating pituitary secretion ACTH.

Both these hormones have remarkable effects, many of which are still not completely understood. Both substances are being used in some eye disease, certain allergic disorders, arthritis and a number of other conditions some of which have not, up to this time,
responded well to other forms of treatment.

Medical science has known something about these glands of internal secretion and of the hormones which they produce for many years. However, the discovery of the extraordinary effects of these two hormones on many functions of the human body and on some of the body's diseases has caused a great deal of intensive research work.

Unfortunately the pituitary can also become the seat of a tumor.
In this connection one correspondent wrote that her husband had such a tumor removed from the pituitary and although his vision
had been seriously affected before the operation it was almost completely restored afterwards. The operation however resulted in some change in his features and other complications although he has continued to lead a generally normal life.

There are other functions of various hormones of the pituitary,
including its effect on growth,
which space forbids discussing at this time.

'Studying' The Jury System

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

It is difficult to understand what was in the mind of a Wichita, Kans. Federal judge when he permitted a University of Chicago

Sokolsky

law school team to put a microphone into a jury room
to discover the behavior of the jurors. Their conversations concerning five civil suits were recorded and the tapes
played.

Anyone who has ever been a juror can tell what the behavior of jurors of any other people crowded into a room, "When do we eat?"
"Will the Yankees win?" are normal questions.

What can the Chicago professors
with a fat grant from the Ford Foundation learn about the behavior of ordinary Americans from their casual conversation even in the jury room? What is the object of all these behaviorist studies,
starting with the Kinsey Reports on the private of occupations to his peepholing of a jury room?

WHAT ARE THE objectives of the Rockefeller and Ford Foundations in underwriting these behaviorist studies? Is it to prove that we are not all professors and that most of us act all too human?

In this instance in Wichita, if may still be that all those who had anything to do with putting a microphone in the jury room entered into a conspiracy to commit a crime.

There is a loophole, of course.
It is a crime to tamper with a jury but it is not a crime to eavesdrop on a jury. But what about placing a microphone in the jury room?

There seems to be no law about a microphone. Perhaps it never occurred to our lawmakers that anyone would be so debased as to put a microphone in a jury room,
to record the conversations among the jurors in five civil cases.

THEREFORE there is no law.

So the courts may not have a chance to put anyone in jail, but impeachment proceedings and disbarment proceedings are possible

and should be entered upon forthwith.

Attorney General Brownell has already expressed his sense of outrage, but he can do much about it.
He can dismiss any federal attorneys who had anything to do with this horrible act.

The Ford Foundation has in recent months taken a peculiar attitude toward its offspring, the Fund for the Republic. Privately directors of the Ford Motor Company and the Ford Foundation denounce the Fund for the Republic;
it is impossible to get anyone to be responsible for a public statement along the lines of the private conversations.

In the Wichita jury eavesdropping matter, it is not the Fund for the Republic that is to blame but the Ford Foundation.

THE FORD FOUNDATION, like most other foundations, denies responsibility on the ground that once a grant has been made, the foundation does not interfere with it. The assumption is that the university

or association or individual to whom the grant has been made is responsible for its proper expenditure.

That is too easy a formula and it is morally untenable; Congress
might make it legally untenable.
Whoever pays the piper can call the tune.

When, for instance, there is so clear a pattern as the Fund for the Republic displays, it is impossible to believe that the Ford Foundation, which provided the enormous sum of 15 million dollars for the fund, has absolutely nothing to say about it.

IT MAY BE the truth but it is not reasonable and each one of us is free to accept or reject such an unreasonable explanation. Fifteen million dollars is a lot of money to give even to Paul Hoffman and Robert Hutchins without any strings whatsoever.

If it is true that all these grants are given unconditionally, then the Chicago University Law School
could spend its grant as it chose,
this time by putting a microphone
in a grand jury room.

1956 Free-For-All

By JAMES G. HAYDEN

One effect of President Eisenhower's illness has been to increase greatly the importance of popular primaries in selection of presidential nominees next year.

Assuming, as almost all leading politicians do, that Eisenhower will refuse re-election, presidential preference voting so far provided for in 18 states scarcely can fail to influence selection of the Republican nominee powerfully.

A prevailing opinion that Democrat aspirants could not avoid fighting it out in parallel primaries has been greatly increased by the indication that the winner in that party will not have Eisenhower to beat.

Since 1952, when 16 states held presidential primaries, Indiana and Montana have joined the list and there is still plenty of time for other states to climb aboard
through action of their legislatures.
The presidential-primary schedule
as of now is as follows:

New Hampshire, March 13; Minnesota, March 20; Wisconsin, April 3; Illinois, April 10, New Jersey, April 17; Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, April 24, Maryland, May 7; Indiana, Ohio, and West Virginia, May 8; Nebraska, May 15;
Oregon, May 18; Florida, May 23;
New York, California, Montana and South Dakota, June 5.

It will be remembered that the very first primary in 1952—in New Hampshire — profoundly affected
the contest in both parties.

Despite his still being in Paris,
Gen. Eisenhower scored a clean sweep over Sen. Taft, who had barnstormed the state with all his might.

On the Democratic side New Hampshire voters seized upon the only instrument they had—Sen.
Kefauver—to register their disapproval of President Truman. With the entire Democratic machine in the state marshalled behind Truman with purpose of putting the bumpkins Tennessee in his place, Kefauver polled 20,147 to 16-298 for Truman. Eighteen days later Truman announced "I shall not accept a renomination."

Kefauver carried most of the other presidential primaries, including a big one in California, but without much benefit to himself because, after Truman, virtually nobody chose to run against him.
This was especially true of Adlai Stevenson, who avoided the primaries that year by insisting up to the very moment of his nomination that he preferred the governorship of Illinois, for which he already had been renominated.

It is fairly certain that neither
Stevenson or any other ambitious Democrat can similarly skirt the '56 primaries. Kefauver again is regarded as a sure contestant and, if Stevenson should hesitate to submit himself to the acid test of popular voting, Gov. Harriman is an odds-on bet to grab that ball.

There may be others, such as the fifth-term Gov. Lausche and fourthterm Gov. Williams of Michigan.
The Republican outlook is highlighted by the residence of three conspicuous aspirants in the premier presidential-primary state of California. The distinction of that commonwealth as to the preference vote is that the winner takes all and it now ranks behind only
New York in the number of delegates it will send to the convention.

The prospective California Republican entrants are Vice President Nixon, Sen. Knowland and Gov. Knight. Nixon is regarded at the moment as the man most likely to receive President Eisenhower's blessing. If he does, Knowland is fully expected to jump in as the 1956 replica of Sen. Taft, counting on support by the party's domestically conservative and internationally isolationist old guard.

It could be, of course, that those three Californians will so mess each other up that all of them will be passed over. Among the men who might emerge as party nominee without benefit of primary votes is a r e Milton Eisenhower, younger brother of the President and now head of Pennsylvania State University, Secretary Humphrey and Chief Justice Warren.

A poll of Republican governors
and state chairmen by the Wall Street Journal found Nixon in the lead, but with Milton Eisenhower and Warren close runners-up.

It may be a tip-off as to the standing of the Republican ultra-right wing that the only one among the persons polled speaking up for Sen. Knowland was Gov.
J. Bracken Lee of Utah who had announced against re-election of President Eisenhower even before his illness.

WE THINK FATE ENTERS the sports
arenas now and then to restore the balance;
relieve the monotony, give the kings their
"come-uppance," prove patience is a virtue and stage a revival of the David and Goliath story. They did this in the recent world series.
For millions the Yanks had been established as the supermen, the clutch players, the in-vincibles and the boys who always came through when the chips were down. As each Yank came to bat he looked 10 feet tall.

The hottest Dodger fan always felt apprehensive, inking by inking. Yet in the interest

the iron mines of Witherbee, N.Y., took on the courage, the will and the power to mow down
the high and mighty. . . . Hail Johnny Podres,

The dismal performance of the Dodgers in the first, second and sixth games was due to the fact that they, like Jackie Gleason, abandoned the "live show" routine. Gleason, like Brooklyn, will come back and triumph, but in
"Honeymooners" on film the spontaneous quality which always marked the rollicking
sketches was lost in the pre-packaged format.
Looked as if Gleason had switched from the free and easy comedian to the coldly efficient industrial tycoon knee deep in millions. We felt that "Away We Go" could indicate a trip to a director's meeting.

GOV. HARRIMAN HAS PROMISED a war

live in near families. And a complete failure of the regional groups to invade the regions of crime movies, horror films and TV slugging routines.

There are so many commercials on Walt

Tannyhill Tells Jury of Slaying

Admits He Beat Waitress To Death

FREMONT, Ohio (U)—"I took the jack handle and beat her. I don't know how many times I hit her."

Thus, carnival worker Sam Tannyhill, 26, admitted on the witness stand yesterday that he killed a 23-year-old waitress in a rural necking spot last May 2 after robbing the restaurant where she worked of $85.

His testimony as a defense witness in his own first degree murder trial came as somewhat of a surprise since he had refused to make a signed confession.

The state contends he bludgeoned Mrs. Shirley Bradford to keep her from disclosing his identity to the police. Tannyhill's story differed only in the motive.

He hadn't meant to kill her, he said, only tie her up so he could make a getaway. But she tried to tussle with him and he grabbed the jack handle, fearing she was trying to get his pistol, he said.

Although he has been adjudged sane, Tannyhill has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. His defense includes testimony from Probate Judge Edward J. Russell of Marion, Ohio, that he was considered a juvenile delinquent in and around his home town of LaRue in Marion County.

A common pleas jury of nine women and three men is hearing the trial before Judge Arthur Tudor, assigned here from Hardin County.

The steps leading up to the slaying began when Tannyhill took his hotel room key from a clerk and then left through a window to provide an alibi.

Driving to the Hut restaurant, he waited there until all of the customers were gone and forced Mrs. Bradford at gunpoint to hand over the contents of the cash register.

At this point the waitress asked a question which the state says probably spelled her fate:

"What would your sister, 'Sunshine,' think of this?"

Until then, Tannyhill said, he did not know that Mrs. Bradford knew him and his sister, Mrs. Frances (Sunshine) Manning, who lives in Fremont.

He said he forced Mrs. Bradford into his car and drove to Tindal Bridge which spans the Sandusky River southwest of here.

"She said she was going to report the robbery," he said. "I tried to talk her out of it but couldn't."

Tannyhill said he was going to bind her, "but there were other cars around so I got part of my automobile jack out of the car and placed it on her shoulder."

But she started to tussle with him and he feared she was going to grab his pistol, he said.

That, he said, was when he used the jack handle.

'COONS FORM A BREAD LINE—Waiting for their bread is a host of raccoons that almost nightly come for dinner at the Berea, Ohio, home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schuster. It all started three years ago when Schuster fed a lone 'coon that had ventured onto his property. Next night the raccoon brought a friend, and soon the friends were bringing friends. Now almost 40 panhandling raccoons come for a slice of bread, which Schuster feeds them from a case window. They seldom act disorderly, preferring to wait patiently for their turn. They consume about 50 loaves of bread a week.

The group, comprising 50 daily newspapers in non-metropolitan areas of Ohio, earlier elected three new trustees. They are Beeler, Daubel and P. A. Oojin, business manager of the Ironton Tribune.

R. Harris, advertising director of the Piqua Call.

Mental, Penal Chiefs Get Pay Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—A new salary schedule was announced today for division chiefs, superintendents, wardens and psychiatrists in the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, department director, in announcing the new schedule, said:

"The new schedule, effective immediately, was authorized by the last session of the Legislature as part of the state's progressive effort to improve Ohio's mental health, correctional and juvenile programs."

"We feel that this progressive effort is going to make Ohio a place where professional personnel in the fields of mental health, and adult and juvenile rehabilitation, will want to work."

"Not only is there recognition, as evidence in part by the more realistic salary schedule, of the desperate need for more 'brains' with which to attack our problems, but also of the equally important need for more 'bricks' with which to do the job properly. Approval by the people of Ohio Nov. 8 of the 150 million dollar building bond issue (constitutional amendment No. 1) will do much to fulfill this latter need."

The new annual salary schedule, with the old salaries in parenthesis, follows:

Chief of the division of mental hygiene, $22,500 ($15,860); chief of the division of correction, $15,500 ($10,320); chief of the division of juvenile research, classification and training, $14,500 ($9,420); chief of the division of business administration, $12,000 ($9,840).

Superintendents of the three receiving hospitals (Cleveland, Columbus and Rollman at Cincinnati) to be used as institutes of psychiatry under the new training program for professional mental health personnel $19,000 ($13,800).

Superintendents of other mental institutions, $18,000 ($13,800); psychiatrists, $12,000 to $17,000 based on experience and training ($8,640 to $10,320).

Warden of Ohio Penitentiary, $15,000 ($9,840); superintendents of London Prison Farm, Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield and the Marion Correctional Institution, $13,500 ($9,420); superintendent of Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville, $12,500 ($9,420).

Superintendent of the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, $18,500 ($13,800); superintendents of the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster, and Girls' Industrial School, Delaware, $12,500 (formerly $8,640 at Boys' Industrial School, and $7,560 at Girls' Industrial School).

Dear Sarah:

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Dear Sarah, you have been in your grave two years. You never heard of me in your life, and I never heard of you until an hour ago. I am taking this way of letting the world know what a wonderful wife you were. I was late to work, and hailed a cab driven by your husband, Max. It was a crisp clear autumn morning, the kind that makes a music in your veins. "It's a fine day," I said to Max, "but I guess in the cab business you make more money on rainy days."

"All days are good days," Max said. "I don't worry about the money. I take it as it comes, and I don't cry if less comes in one day than another."

"People let trifles pile up and wear them down. I can't. I've been hacking 23 years, mostly at night. I can remember during the depression when I came home with only 40 cents after 12 hours at the wheel."

Then he told me about the only time in his life money meant anything to him.

He told about meeting and marrying you 19 years ago. He told about the first years when often all you had to eat was bread and milk and coffee, and how cheerful you were. He told about the kids coming and how well you made out with little money, and how you never complained over the long years he worked at night and you were alone.

"She had happiness in her," he said more than once.

Max told me how thriftily you put by the dollars and pennies, until you both had a nest egg of $5,000 when you fell ill of cancer nearly three years ago.

He told how the nest egg dribbled away in efforts to cure you—specialists, nurses, treatments—and how you fought against spending. He told how he finally quit work and took care of you himself, because he couldn't bear to leave you alone. He told how resigned you were.

Max didn't want to talk about your death. In the two years since you left he hasn't forgotten you. "A cab driver meets many lonely women," he said. "But they don't interest me. You know the reason they're so lonely? It's because they have loneliness in them."

"My wife wasn't that way at all. She always had happiness in her."

Max then told me about your two daughters. He is very proud of them.

"The older girl is 17," he said. "She won't get to go to college. The nest egg was for that. But she didn't want to go to college very much. She soon will graduate from business school and she is going steady with a fine boy. Our other girl is 15 and doing well in school. They're both good girls."

You yourself are in Max's thoughts often while he's driving. "It makes me feel bad," he remarked, "when couples get in my car and start quarreling. Some-

only 40 cents after 12 hours at the wheel."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

A powerful bloc of labor leaders is ready to battle Walter Reuther or any other union chief who attempts to tie the new labor federation of 16 million people to the Democratic party.

The rebellious bloc may even endorse a Republican candidate for the presidency of the U.S.

Unless the Republican nominee is Vice-President Richard Nixon, this group will fight all efforts to put the new AFL-CIO on record as endorsing the Democratic candidate.

Right now, this coalition of union chiefs has its own candidate for the presidency of the U.S.—Gov. Goodwin Knight of California. They're raising money for him. They're coming East with him next week to help him meet men in labor circles. They're going to try and convince other AFL leaders that Gov. Knight has given labor all it wants in California—and that labor, even at this stage, should swing behind Knight's drive for the GOP nomination.

SUCH ACTIVITY on behalf of a Republican—on a national scale—is unprecedented. The drive to keep the Reuther-New Deal bloc from moving the newly merged AFL-CIO into the Democratic party lock, stock and barrel, is bound to start a row inside labor's high command shortly after it goes down the aisle of the big armory in New York to take the marriage vows on Dec. 5.

Reuther and many of his CIO colleagues are virtually in the Democratic hierarchy now. They have a man, Tom Downs, who is Reuther's spokesman, sitting in the Democratic Advisory Committee on Political Organization.

Downs, a Detroit, is a member of this key committee as the official representative of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

THUS, IN EFFECT, Reuther keeps his eye on the Democratic political committee. And through Downs he has his say on the materials prepared, the methods of distribution, the use of television and radio—and any other campaign technique needed for modern elections.

The AFL, however, has no representative on this Democratic committee. The federation has consistently refused to become an official part of the Democratic party. It has agreed to do little more than observe the Democratic party's Advisory Committee's work. This it does through committee member Nancy Smith, wife of the president of the AFL Tennessee Federation of Labor.

But the federation is sticking to its policy of not becoming an official part of any party.

Now, when the AFL and CIO merge into the AFL-CIO, they will launch a new united political committee made up of the AFL Labor's League for Political Education and the CIO Political Action Committee. All decisions of this combined committee will be made on a majority vote basis. The old AFL group, representing 11 million members to the CIO's 5 million will naturally have a two to one majority.

The AFL majority will be told by a bloc of federation leaders that they not only don't want to join the Democratic party—but they are for Gov. Knight or for Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren.

This will be the rebellious bloc talking. No minor league labor leaders, these. They will be some of the men who lead the powerful California Federation of Labor, one of the largest in the AFL.

THEY WILL INCLUDE such influential officials as the carpenters union's Maurice Hucheson; the sailor's capwearing, open-shirted Harry Lundberg, a real proletarian touch; Bill McFetridge of the Building Service International Union; perhaps Dave Beck of the teamsters' brotherhood—but certainly several important teamsters' officials, and leaders of the powerful construction trades.

These men lead millions of AFL workers. They number several AFL vice-presidents among them. They are too influential to be roughly overridden. The AFL's top leaders will not want the nation to see the new AFL-CIO split wide open politically so soon after the merger.

The odds are that the AFL having the majority on the new AFL-CIO political committee will vote against any presidential endorsement—if the GOP candidate is not Richard Nixon!

Production of bituminous coal in 1954 was 392 million tons. This is about 2.5 tons for every man, woman and child in the United States.

$100,000 Fire Ruins Store In Ashtabula

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—A fire ruined a Goodyear Tire & Dubber Co. store in downtown Ashtabula yesterday and snarled evening rush hour traffic for blocks with billowing clouds of dense, black smoke.

The blaze in the one-story cement block building started in chemical used for recapping tires. It was discovered late in the afternoon and firemen from Ashtabula, North Kingsville and South Kingsville brought it under control shortly after dark.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $100,000.

Canton McKinley Moves Into First Place In Football Poll

Massillon 2nd, Potters In 3rd

Stark County Rivals To Play On Nov. 19

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The boisterous Bulldogs of Canton McKinley have convinced the state's sports writers—just as they've convinced four opponents—that they're a pretty good high school football team.

The Bulldogs, coached by bespectacled Wade Watts, moved right around Massillon's seven-time state champions today in the weekly Associated Press poll of 33 sports writers.

A week ago Tom Harp's Tigers had a 30-point edge over the Bulldogs in the 10-9-8-etc. voting by the scribes, but McKinley held the same margin over the Massillons today.

Comparative scores probably had something to do with the sudden shift in sentiment. McKinley romped 74-7 over Canton Lincoln Friday night, while Massillon defeated the same team 45-7 two weeks ago.

The huge score, biggest in Canton city competition, gave McKinley a four-game point total of 243 against a single touchdown for the foe, to Massillon's 124-20 record. The champs dumped Cincinnati Elder 26-7 last week.

Of the 33 voters in the poll, 11 picked McKinley as the best, Massillon, with 10 top-place votes a week ago, plucked only two this time.

The two Stark County rivals, who have met many times in the season finale with the state title riding on the result, tangle Nov. 19 at Canton—and this may be for the marbles, too.

The ratings came up with some oddities this week. Cleveland Benedictine, tied for 10th last week with Youngstown East, slipped to 11th despite a rousing 53-0 win over Youngstown Woodrow Wilson which has tied one and lost three. Benedictine has counted 165 points to 13 for the opposition in three runaway victories, a scoring record exceeded only by McKinley.

Columbus East, a 62-0 victor over Columbus South, slipped from seventh to ninth; East Liverpool leaped from fifth to third with a 19-12 conquest of Steubenville Central Catholic; Hamilton traded places with East Liverpool, although whipping Cincinnati Purcell 12-7, and Mansfield's Tigers fell from ninth to tenth by edging Warren 13-12.

Springfield held fourth place with a 39-24 win over Middletown, Dayton Roosevelt topped Dayton Kiser 38-7 to stay in sixth position, and Toledo Devilbiss couldn't rise from eighth despite a 40-7 victory over hitherto unbeaten Toledo Macomb.

From here and there: Ron Cox, Shelby halfback, scored five touchdowns in the 47-6 win over Gallion, giving him 11 for four straight victories. . . . Charley Comer scored three times, and booted three extra points, in Columbus East's 62-0 rout of South.

Akron East, boasting four straight wins and a scoring record of 137-38, will try to stop Canton McKinley Friday night. . . . The Bulldogs must keep an eye on Oriental halfback Ernie Quinney who has rushed for more than 500 yards and an average of better than 10.

End Bob Williams scored four TD's for McKinley against Lincoln, but 10 different players had a hand in the huge 74-point total.

A crowd of 8,000 watched Mansfield's Tigers nose out Warren 13-12 Saturday night, and across town 4,100 sat in on the 12-0 whitewashing of Ashland by Mansfield Madison.

Sebring McKinley, which held Poland to 30 yards rushing in its 21-0 fourth straight win, meets unbeaten Lisbon this week with the winner favored to cop the Tri-County League title. The loop was formed in 1932.

Belpre has scored 169 in four games, holding the foe scoreless, Bill Snyder leading the list with 66 points. Upper Sandusky made it eight straight wins, 34-0 over Willard, with Dan Patchett getting three touchdowns and Roger Boyle two.

Tony Price scored twice on sneaks as Portsmouth's Trojans rang up their first Greater Ohio loop victory 27-7 over Lima. . . . Springfield's win over Middletown put the Wildcats on top of that rugged circuit.

Ancient rivals Fremont Ross and Sandusky, each unbeaten in four, tangle Friday at Fremont. . . . junior halfback Tim Johnson went for 148 yards in 12 tries as Alliance whipped Barborton's Magics 24-0.

Big oddity of the Springfield-Middletown game came when Springfield scored, Middletown ran the next kickoff back 88 yards, and Springfield carted the next one back 80 yards, the three touchdowns consuming 32 seconds of playing time.

Bill Jackson of Norton scored three times in the 35-6 win over Tallmadge to run his four-game touchdown total to 10. Larry Falcon, Akron East's second-string quarterback, booted 13 straight extra points before a penalty halted him. He made the 14th, but when the infraction, moved him

DIVIDE GIRLS' LEAGUE HONORS—The Homeworth softball team, at top, won the Salem City League girls playoff championship this season after the Georgetown girls, at bottom, had won the league title. Homeworth defeated Georgetown in the post-season playoff.

On the home Homeworth team, kneeling left to right are Karen Clark, Carol Wagner, Kay Powell, Judy Wallace. At back—Vivian Stoffer, Elaine Wagner, Nancy Wutrick and JoAnn Stewart. Not pictured were Joyce Stoffer, Mary Lou Dysle, Dorothy Weber, Cynthia Davidson, Dana Dye, Barbara Dysle and Peggy McQuilkin. Georgetown—kneeling (l. to r.) back to the 17 his effort was blocked.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 33 sports editors rated Ohio's high school football teams this week. Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, total poll points on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, and the points scored by and against each in four games. Each of the top 10 has a 4-0 record except Mansfield which is 3-1.

Michigan Puts Powerhouse On Gridiron

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Mighty Michigan has turned out another football powerhouse.

But this team, ranked the nation's best in this week's Associated Press poll, isn't one of those razzle-dazzle clubs that used to grind out a point-a-minute while pounding its opponents into the turf.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's 1955 team relies on a smothering defense that gives up midfield yardage, then cuts it off inside the Michigan 30-yard line.

In the 1920s under Coach Fielding H. (Hurry up) Yost, the Wolverines rolled over the opposition without mercy, pounding out an astounding 2,826 points against their opponents 42 over a five-season period.

Nor is Oosterbaan's team like the "Mad Magicians" of the 1940s, whose ball handling wizardry was developed by H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, now Michigan athletic director. Crisler's squads called their shots, striking with agility anywhere on the field. Their ball handling made shadows look like halfbacks.

Oosterbaan's team has goaded opponents into making mistakes, then capitalized on them.

A 26-2 victory over Army Saturday convinced the nation's sports writers and broadcasters that Michigan has another great team. But the Wolverines real test is yet to come. They have six grueling battles in the Big Ten Conference coming up.

"You can fall as fast as you get up there," said Oosterbaan. "We'll

Greenford Observes Fire Prevention Week

GREENFORD — Fire Prevention Week is being observed throughout the week following a proclamation by Bert Schaefer, Greenford Township Fire Chief.

Schaefer has urged citizens of the community to check homes thoroughly for fire hazards and to correct any unsafe conditions existing in homes.

Fires in 1954 destroyed 11,000 lives and $870,000 in property, Schaefer said. An estimated 845,116 fires in the United States were reported last year.

Annual 'Ohio State Day' Set In East Liverpool

The annual 'Ohio State Day' meeting and dinner for Columbiana alumni and friends will be held at the Travelers Hotel in East Liverpool at 7 p.m. D.S.T., Wednesday, Oct. 26. The main speaker will be J. Edward Weaver, administrative assistant to the vice president and business manager of Ohio State University.

One purpose of the meeting is to promote interest in the passage of the Ohio Constitutional Amendment 1 which will help state universities and needy school districts. Football movies will be shown.

African Tribes May Give Clue To Heart Cure

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The Bantu Negro tribes of central and south Africa may give science a key to curbing heart diseases in the Western world.

Doctors have found members of the Bantu tribes immune to coronary thrombosis and other heart ailments.

One reason is that these Africans have "Peter Pan" blood vessels—they "never grow up." The arteries and veins of a Bantu 70 to 80 years old compare favorably with those of a European of 20 to 30, doctors say.

Research has shown that most white men have much larger deposits of lime salts and fatty materials in their bodies than the Bantus. Such materials tend to harden the blood vessels over the years and apparently create conditions making the heart more susceptible to disease.

Why the Bantus have less is still unknown.

Dr. I. Bersohn of the Johannesburg Institute of Medical Research says, "The problem is to find what protects the Bantu blood vessels from aging."

Imogene Coca Gives Up Big TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Imogene Coca, the comedienne who made a sensational television success as Sid Caesar's sidekick, has voluntarily given up a multimillion dollar contract with NBC following failure of her own individual program last year.

The contract with the network guaranteed her a minimum of $100,000 a year and still had nine years to run. Last year she received about $500,000.

NBC asked her not to relinquish the contract, even though she has not been appearing on any program this season.

Miss Coca did not say so, but it was believed the deaths this year of her mother and her husband might have had some influence on her decision.

She said she plans now to appear for a $60,000, three-week engagement at a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel beginning Nov. 1.

very good sign that the doctors will let us have the kind of a conference we'll have."

Dulles got to Denver as the President was ending another day of satisfactory progress in his slow convalescence—at a pace his physicians now say will keep him in the hospital for at least four more weeks and possibly five.

It was a day during which he got outside for the first time since he was stricken. His hospital bed was rolled onto a terrace near his eighth-floor room and he spent 30 minutes there basking in the warm autumn sunshine with an excellent view of the majestic Rocky Mountains to the west.

It was a day too during which he handled the biggest batch of government business since he was taken ill. Late in the afternoon he 1. Chose Harold S. Vance, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. A 65-year-old Republican whose salary will be $18,000 a year, Vance got a recess appointment which is subject to the Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes.

2. Named Meyer Kestbaum, head of the Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing firm, to be a special White House consultant serving without pay. Kestbaum was chairman of the President's Committee on Federal-State Problems. Now he will advise Eisenhower on the recommendations of that committee, as well as on those made by the Hoover Commission on government reorganization.

3. Gave recess appointments and promotions to two service officers. Rear Adm. Charles R. Brown, now on the Joint Strategic Survey Committee, advances to vice admiral and becomes deputy commander and chief of staff of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Maj. Gen. Clyde D. Eddleman becomes a lieutenant general and takes over as deputy chief of the Army staff, in charge of plans.

4. Signed an executive order delegating to the Office of Defense Mobilization authority to release certain national stockpile materials for defense purposes in event of an enemy attack. The White House said the President's illness was not a factor in delegation of the authority.

5. Put his name to a proclamation officially designating tomorrow as Christopher Columbus Day.

6. Signed two other executive orders which the White House said would be made public later.

Burned Clothing Found Near Body

CLEVELAND (AP)—Discovery of pieces of partly burned clothing added a bizarre touch today to efforts to determine the identity of a girl whose nearly nude body was found in Brookside Park.

Detectives combing the brush and thicket-covered section of the park where the body was found Sunday in a shallow grave discovered pieces of a jacket and a man's shirt near the grave. They had been partly burned.

Homicide Capt. David E. Kerr said "it appeared that someone had been stalked to the ground" about 300 yards from the spot where the decomposed body was discovered by a mushroom picker. He said a piece of a green striped shirt was found knotted to a stake driven into the ground.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said an incomplete autopsy has so far failed to reveal the cause of the girl's death. It has been ascertained only that she was about 18 years old and had been dead five or six days. No scars or marks of violence were found on the body, Gerber said.

Chester, W. Va., Boy Held For Car Thefts

LISBON — A 14-year-old Chester, W. Va., boy, involved in two burglaries and implicated in the theft of four cars in West Virginia was turned over to an FBI agent Monday after he appeared at a hearing before Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin.

Judge Tobin said the boy will probably be taken to a federal school for boys at Ashland, Ky.

The FBI entered the case because three of the cars the boy stole had been driven across the Ohio State line.

The youth was arrested Sunday morning at 12:45 by Wellsville police in a stolen car owned by Charles Hendricks of East Liverpool. The car had been stolen early Saturday night in Chester, W. Va.

Another Chester boy and a New Cumberland, W. Va., area man were also riding in the stolen car. Judge Tobin said the second youth was not involved in the case.

Clarence Michael of RD 1, New Cumberland, the other occupant in the car, was fined $50 by Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Tobin said Michael, formerly of East Liverpool, was sought by Columbiana County authorities on a non-support charge for two years. Unable to pay the fine, Michael was sent to jail. A warrant for his arrest on the non-support charge is being issued today, Tobin said.
